SYAF SUMMER YOUTH INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

SYAF SUMMER YOUTH INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

Introduction PROVIDING AN INTERNSHIP

What is an Internship?

Hands-on learning and skills development with real-world work experience under the guidance and supervision of supportive adults who have relevant knowledge and skills in their field. Internships are critically important for young people as they prepare them for life after high school. An internship that provides a rich learning environment sends an important message to students that learning and earning are intrinsically related.

Many of the students available for interning have begun training in skills for careers that align to the “Target Industries” as identified in the “One Community One Goal” strategy.

Our students are the future and we need your help to prepare them to be their best!

Developing young talent is one of the smartest decisions a business can make. Career path decisions are made early, so when you hire high school students now, you create a pathway back to your business for future employees.

The goals of our summer internship program are to promote students’ interest in post-secondary education, and to develop the skills that are required to be successful in the 21st century workplace. You’ll be helping our students, and also helping your business by tapping into this excellent source of energetic young talent!

The Summer Youth Internship Program Is:

- Project based with learning goals structured into the experience
- Internship Provider/Employer interviews and hires student intern
- Payment to students by grant (or employer)
- A work/learn exchange between student and your business
- Offers opportunity for intern to learn all aspects of the workplace
- Student commitment of minimum 30 hours per week, for five weeks
- Academic credit earned by students with successful internship evaluation and completion of academic assignments
- Interns insured through school accident policy
- Monitored by an instructional supervisor and workplace supervisor

An Internship Is Not:

- Free help or volunteering
- Job shadowing
- Training or mentoring (with no productive work)
- More than 20% “busy work” (such as filing, errands, covering phone, etc.)

EMPLOYER'S ROLE IN INTERNSHIP

Before the Internship

Establish A Learning Project

We want our student to work for you and learn from you. Design a project for the intern that is worthwhile for you and at the same time is a rigorous learning experience for the student.

Interview the Student

Before a student is placed, he/she will meet with you at your company. These "interviews" are designed as a way for both you and the student to make sure that the match is a good one. Students may bring resumes along with prepared questions. During this interview, we suggest that you provide information about the following:

- The organization's purpose and activities
- Your job duties, tasks and responsibilities
- What you want the intern to do
- Other employees who may be working with the intern
- Where the intern will work

During the Internship

Provide an Orientation

The sooner the student understands what the organization does and how it operates, the sooner he/she can assume assigned responsibilities and be productive. To help make that happen, you should make your co-workers aware of the arrival of your intern and plan an orientation session.

The orientation might include:

- A tour of the facilities and introduction to other employees
- Reading materials about the organization
- Introduction to the intern's workplace
- Explanation of company policies (attire, behavior, cell phone and e-mail policies, etc.)
- Explanation of work standards and procedures

Supervise and Mentor the Intern

As an Internship Worksite Supervisor, you will use all the skills that apply to any effective supervisory relationship: motivating, modeling, communicating, delegating, training, coaching, and evaluating. The intern will look to you as a mentor who will assist in making the transition from high school to post-secondary education and work environments.

The student interns will have a "graded" assignment to create and review their personal goals for their internship with you during the first week. And then to review those goals and their work to submit a self assessment during the third week. The work site supervisor will also submit an evaluation of student's work during the fourth week.

Your intern will ask you to sign weekly time sheets. Additionally, we expect that you will meet with your intern regularly to provide feedback concerning their performance. During these meetings, the student can: report on the status of their work, ask questions, learn how they are contributing to the organization, consider why the work needs to be done and who benefits from it, and get a sense of work that lies ahead.

State-sponsored foundational employability skills training and credentialing solution.

Online career-contextualized training develops the foundational skills required by most jobs, across industries. The training is self-directed, self-paced, and accessible from any computer or tablet any place, anytime.

Student intern applicants will complete the Soft Skills Training

Soft Skills Training teaches employability and social skills in a career context. Modules include Communicating Effectively, Conveying Professionalism, Promoting Teamwork & Collaboration, and Thinking Critically & Solving Problems. The courseware offers a blended learning approach with offline project-based activities and capstone projects to supplement the interactive digital curriculum.

Digital Skills Training is a self-paced course that provides learners with the skills needed to navigate technology in the workplace. Modules include Computer Operations, Internet Browsing, Digital Communication, Digital Documents, and Digital Security.

Academic Employability Skills Training offers a series of career-focused modules to improve learners' readiness in foundational academic employability skills including math, reading, and data. The courseware can be self-paced or delivered by an instructor, and all content addresses core skills required for entry into all 16 national career clusters.

Each training module contains a course component that includes instructional content, a knowledge-check quiz, and practice exercises that allow learners to apply the skills to real life, practical situations. To complete each module, learners take a posttest to recap what they've learned.

The posttest at the end of each module measures mastery of content. When the learner scores 80% or greater on the posttest, they earn an eBadge and advance to the next module. When learners have completed every module and earned their eBadges, they earn a Certificate of Completion.

Did you know...

Learners who successfully complete the training courseware can access digital versions of their eBadges and Certificates of Completion. These digital badges can be shared on social media, added to an email signature, included in an online portfolio or resume, and more.

Managing the Internship

All regulations pertaining to Federal Child Labor Laws must be adhered to by the employer and verified by the teacher supervisor and the work site supervisor.

Internship Provider Supervisor (Work Site)

Make the intern feel a part of the work team including providing orientation and training, if possible. Identify a person to “mentor” the student if it is not the role of the intern’s work site supervisor. This person, ideally, should meet with the intern(s) weekly to debrief and discuss the week’s work, any potential problems and school assignments related to the internship.

- Develop a schedule that maximizes company and intern needs in completing the internship.
- Review Internship Employer, Student and Parent Agreement. See sample in Addendum.
- Intern must complete and sign & take home for Parent/Guardian’s signature;
- Employer must sign agreement and return to teacher supervisor;
- Call the teacher instructional supervisor for assistance with questions or recurring problems, i.e. tardiness, absenteeism, etc.
- Note that interns may not miss more than two excused days of the internship to receive credit and must make up any hours missed before the end of the SYIP program for grant purposes. If absent, they must notify you before their reporting time, text or email their instructional supervisor and call the CTE office on internship hotline (305-693-3005.)
- Have a signed Miami-Dade County Public Schools’ field trip form on file to take the intern off premises as well as an Emergency Contact Form for each student intern.

Internship Provider Mentoring

- Students will have an assignment in Week 1 to review their personal goals for their internship with their Internship Provider Supervisor.
- Supervisors should meet again with intern during Week 3 to review progress of goals.
- The Supervisor Assessment of Work-Based Student Performance will be worth 50% of the student’s final grade.

Ideas for Intern Projects

The difference between a part time job and an internship is that the internship has “purposeful” work.

- Providing technical support
- Monitoring equipment and troubleshooting problems
- Installing and testing computer hardware
- Processing and verifying accounting information
- Creating weekly and monthly financial reports
- Greeting and escorting visitors
- Developing and providing tours to visitors
- Assisting with event planning

Rules & Procedures

The internship is arguably the single most important component of a career academy. Students and parents must recognize its importance and plan accordingly. All stakeholders (students, school staff and internship providers) must be aware of and comply with non-negotiable rules and procedures.

Students

During the pre-internship, the student must:

- complete all requirements for eligibility including having student accident insurance, submitting signed documents and completing the online internship preparation course;
- clarify any scheduling or transportation problems;
- accept the first position offered to him/her;
- call to cancel all subsequent interviews once an internship position has been accepted; and
- notify his/her lead teacher when hired.

During the internship, the student must:

- work the entire length of the internship (activities such as cheerleading camp, vacation, football practice, etc., cannot be used as excuses for absences during the internship);
- report on the first and last day of the internship (an absence on the first or last day may be grounds for withdrawal from all summer services programs);
- follow the schedule as assigned at the internship provider site (internship supervisors assign hours; students may not have hours changed to suit their needs);
- complete all assignments (student intern receives high school credit and/or dual enrollment credit for the internship);
- observe the Summer School Attendance Policy;
- make up any hours missed for stipend payment purposes; and
- complete a valid, Miami-Dade County Public Schools field trip form to participate in any activities away from the internship site. (No out-of-county travel allowed without prior district authorization.)

School Site/District Staff must:

- assist with internship recruitment;
- review the summer internship training program handbook with the interns prior to the end of the regular school year (discussion of assignments, forms, etc., should be thoroughly covered during this process);
- collect all required documents and submit to the district office electronically via Livebinder in a timely manner;
- collect and submit all required documents (hard copies) if student is eligible for dual enrollment through Miami Dade College in a timely manner to the Department of Career & Technical Education; and
- notify the Department of Career & Technical Education office when the student is hired.

Internship Providers must:

- have a signed Internship Agreement on file with M-DCPS;
- sign and submit the Safety Agreement (see Addendum);
- have a signed Miami-Dade County Public Schools' field trip form on file to take the intern off premises as well as an Emergency Contact Form for each student intern;
- complete the Internship Assessment in a timely fashion, and review results with the student.

INTERNSHIP ASSIGNMENTS

The internship assignments are designed to provide experience in and first-hand knowledge of the workplace environment. Through these assignments, students will gain skills in the areas of interpersonal relations, resources, company organization, and technology.

Interns will receive detailed directions, complete assignments and upload to the bulb app template and/or to the online course “Assignments for Summer Internship.” The final project due Week 3 will be to create a self-narrating presentation about student’s internship.

Interns will do the work on their own time, but will need to consult with internship provider supervisor for some assignments. The Instructional Teacher Supervisor will oversee and grade the weekly intern assignments. The Internship Provider will assess the interns with a letter grade during Week 3.

WEIGHT OF ASSIGNMENTS

Week 1 - RESOURCES	PERCENTAGE
Goals, Objectives, Goal-related Activities	10
Timesheet	5
Week 2 - PLANNING AHEAD & REFLECTIONS
Mission, Vision, and Company History	10
Begin taking/collecting photos for PowerPoint/Photostory	--

It is vital that students complete assignments, plus all timesheets for assignment grades, weeks 4 and 5 timesheets will be used for verification of 150 hours internship completion.

The total percentage of the assignments will be averaged in with the internship provider’s letter grade to determine the student intern’s final grade (See page 17 for sample assessment.)

50% assignments

50% internship provider’s letter grade assessment

Scale: A=100-90 percent

B=89-80 percent

C=79-70 percent

D=69-60 percent

F=59 percent or less

MANAGING THE INTERN TIMESHEET

Timesheets will be processed weekly through the website MiamiInterns.org with the same procedures of last year's internship.

Each week, students will complete and submit timesheet electronically within the MiamiInterns.org website. The Instructional Supervisor will review the timesheet, and when approved it will be routed to the workplace Internship Provider for approval.

Internship Providers will receive an email (to the email address that is registered in the MiamiInterns.org website system.) The email will contain a link to the student intern's timesheet within MiamiInterns.org. You may also review submitted timesheets by logging into MiamiInterns.org and selecting the REPORTS tab / Students Timesheets.

- Note that interns may not miss more than two days of the internship in order to receive academic credit and must make up any hours missed before the end of the SYIP program for grant payment purposes. If absent, interns must notify you and the CTE office at 305-693-3005.
- See addendum for sample of the electronic timesheet file.

Fact Sheet #71: Internship Programs Under The Fair Labor Standards Act

This fact sheet provides general information to help determine whether interns and students working for “for-profit” employers are entitled to minimum wages and overtime pay under the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA).¹

Background

The FLSA requires “for-profit” employers to pay employees for their work. Interns and students, however, may not be “employees” under the FLSA—in which case the FLSA does not require compensation for their work.

The Test for Unpaid Interns and Students

Courts have used the “primary beneficiary test” to determine whether an intern or student is, in fact, an employee under the FLSA.² In short, this test allows courts to examine the “economic reality” of the intern-employer relationship to determine which party is the “primary beneficiary” of the relationship. Courts have identified the following seven factors as part of the test:

1. The extent to which the intern and the employer clearly understand that there is no expectation of compensation. Any promise of compensation, express or implied, suggests that the intern is an employee—and vice versa.
2. The extent to which the internship provides training that would be similar to that which would be given in an educational environment, including the clinical and other hands-on training provided by educational institutions.
3. The extent to which the internship is tied to the intern’s formal education program by integrated coursework or the receipt of academic credit.
4. The extent to which the internship accommodates the intern’s academic commitments by corresponding to the academic calendar.
5. The extent to which the internship’s duration is limited to the period in which the internship provides the intern with beneficial learning.
6. The extent to which the intern’s work complements, rather than displaces, the work of paid employees while providing significant educational benefits to the intern.
7. The extent to which the intern and the employer understand that the internship is conducted without entitlement to a paid job at the conclusion of the internship.

Courts have described the “primary beneficiary test” as a flexible test, and no single factor is determinative. Accordingly, whether an intern or student is an employee under the FLSA necessarily depends on the unique circumstances of each case.

If analysis of these circumstances reveals that an intern or student is actually an employee, then he or she is entitled to both minimum wage and overtime pay under the FLSA. On the other hand, if the analysis confirms that the intern or student is not an employee, then he or she is not entitled to either minimum wage or overtime pay under the FLSA.

Footnotes

1 - The FLSA exempts certain people who volunteer to perform services for a state or local government agency or who volunteer for humanitarian purposes for non-profit food banks. WHD also recognizes an exception for individuals who volunteer their time, freely and without anticipation of compensation, for religious, charitable, civic, or humanitarian purposes to non-profit organizations. Unpaid internships for public sector and non-profit charitable organizations, where the intern volunteers without expectation of compensation, are generally permissible.
